

HERO OF ZEPPELIN ATTACK IS KILLED

Lieut. Warneford, Who Wrecked German Airship, and Henry Beacher Needham Meet Death in Fall.

PARIS, June 18.—Lieut. Reginald A. J. Warneford, the Canadian aviator who won the Victoria cross by destroying a Zeppelin over Belgium, was killed Thursday by falling from his aeroplane at Duc, France.

Henry Beacher Needham, the American war correspondent who was a passenger, also was killed.

Henry Beacher Needham, the American magazine writer, was best known in this country as a member of former President Roosevelt's "tennis cabinet" five years ago, when he was assigned by the colonel to report on the republican organization in New York.

A resident of Castle, N. Y., Mr. Needham was admitted to the bar in the District of Columbia after a three-year course at Brown university. He became a staff writer for the New York Evening Post, later becoming connected with McClure's magazine and the World's Work. As a constant contributor to magazines he became identified as a most conspicuous "muck raker".

In 1908 President Roosevelt named him as a special commissioner to investigate housing conditions in the canal zone.

Six years ago, after the family had been a conspicuous figure in Washington social life, Mrs. Needham brought divorce proceedings against her husband and was awarded $40 a week alimony and other financial relief after a bitter legal fight.

Shortly after he again came into public notice through the presentation of a political play dealing with life in Washington, which was staged under the name of "Senator West".

Mr. Needham was a member of the Players' club, New York; Franklin inn, Philadelphia, and University and National Press clubs of Washington.

For some time past Mr. Needham has been in Europe gathering data for his literary activities.

Europe is Not Ready for Peace

Latest picture of Col. S. M. House, posed especially for the International News Service, at the home of his son-in-law at Roslyn, L. I. It is understood that in Col. House's opinion the time is not yet ripe for any move toward peace among the warring nations. He has spent several months in the war zone as the personal representative of the president and returned to this country aboard the American liner St. Paul on Sunday.

SWISS FACTORIES AID GERMANY WITH ORDERS

Allies Not Only Ones Helped by Outside Resources Says Writer.

GENEVA, June 18.—While the Germans complain because the United States sells shells to the allies, they themselves are getting a vast amount of war equipment from machinery and electrical houses in eastern Switzerland.

Here the factories are working to full capacity turning out things needed by the great armies of the Kaiser. For example, the works of Escher, Wyss & Co., and the Oerlikon electrical works, both at Zurich, are producing engine and ship equipment for the German army.

In many of the Swiss manufacturing companies Germans are large stockholders and in several cases the same companies own plants in Switzerland and in Germany.

12,500 Men at Work.
It is estimated here that about 12,500 men, representing skilled labor of the highest sort, now are working in Swiss plants on war orders. Shops of many sorts have been modified so as to be used for the production of things useful in war.

Up to the time Italy entered the war the Swiss shops enjoyed free communication with the outside world and raw material of all descriptions freely entered the country by way of Genoa and thence over the St. Gothard route to Zurich.

Now Italy has blocked exit by way of the St. Gothard and the Simplon to all trains carrying equipment which might in any way be of service to the Italian forces. Italy also is commandeering such shipments as might enter into projectile or engine parts.

For some time the Swiss plants were receiving ore shipments from Spain via Genoa and much of this ore came from mines in Spain controlled by the Krupp.

As to coal, the Swiss shops are practically independent, since they use the electric power supplied in abundance by the Alpine streams.

PREPARING FOR RAIDS

German Zeppelins Will Pay Visit to London and Paris.

GENEVA, June 18.—A report received here Thursday says the Germans are preparing for a simultaneous Zeppelin raid upon London and Paris in retaliation for the recent attack on German towns by aviators of the allies.

Three Door Refrigerator $14.95

60 Lbs. Ice Capacity

Construction—

This Refrigerator is constructed with an inside case of hardwood lumber; each board is fastened to hard wood cleats; every joint securely glued and fastened with screws, making it a thoroughly air-tight, strong cabinet in itself; lined with heavy galvanized iron. The outside case is well finished and is constructed of thoroughly seasoned hard wood lumber, screwed fast to the cleats which bind the inside case, thus making it one of the strongest and most durable refrigerators ever built. Size, 29 inches wide, 18 in. deep, 40 in. high.

DRY COLD AIR CIRCULATION.

The dry cold air from the ice chamber falls into the provision chamber below, displacing the warm and lighter air, forcing it up the large provision chamber on the right, through the opening of the top, where by contact with the ice, it is purified, cooled and again falls, thus keeping up a constant circulation, which is necessary in a good refrigerator.

ICE ECONOMY

This refrigerator is scientifically built throughout; the outer walls and inner walls are lined with lineofelt, with dead-air chamber in between; the best insulation known to science; keeps the heat out and the cold in. It saves ice. You'll be surprised how little it consumes.

This is the lowest possible price consistent with this quality refrigerator.
